

HELP SHAPE WASHINGTON'S TRANSPORTATION FUTURE OUTREACH EVENTS

September 2014

The Washington State Transportation Commission (Commission) is seeking broad public comment on its draft Washington Transportation Plan (WTP 2035), a plan designed to chart the course for how the statewide transportation system will change and grow over the next 20 years.

To help meet this objective, the Commission is gathering statewide ideas, comments and concerns from the general public through online, webinar and upcoming in-person forums around the state.
